I have teeth!! Would you believe? I went to Bob yesterday as I told you and he talked to Dr. Picchioni who is for lack of a better way of explaining it, the tooth doctor who works with the implant doctor. Dr Picchioni saw me today and said he would see that I had teeth. He took my "fallen out implants" and my back plate and melded them together. Then he made it fit so it stuck in my mouth. It was a miracle. I ate dinner tonight with Eileen and Herbie at the Club. I actually ate (with a fork) a cheeseburger and French fries. They tasted so good. I look like a person now. I am so happy.

I do have a long road ahead with the implants and more in the front of my mouth, but I will no longer be toothless as I have for the last two weeks.

As I said, Hooray and Hallelujah
